DESCRIPTION

Timeless charm, materials ductility and forms originality: Aurelia is a very charming chair where leather dominates the scene as it completely covers both the seat and the back with a particularly enveloping shape. The detail that makes the difference is the visible stitching that - while maintaining a sober and measured allure - also makes Aurelia a precious design object. Its strong aesthetic impact and marked character focus on a refined image in which the chrome of the frame is opposed to the stitching of the leather that totally covers the seat. Steel supporting structure.
