DESCRIPTION

Its spell works at first sight: Corso Como is a masterpiece of design that - like the famous street in Milan which inspires its name and essence - makes elegance and details its strong point. The peculiarity of its head is to be noted in two stages: the lower part that delineates the first block - much longer than the body of the bed - and serves as a base for the two decorative elements, wavy and "Octagon" patterned that remain behind the two cushions and draw - grafting with the longer block - a refined and unique fantasy. Final treat? The decorative stitching.
