design Ferruccio Laviani

Series of oval and round tables feature the overlap of shaped tops and inner dividing elements. The shaped tops are made of veneered panels while the dividing elements are in HDF.

In the round version, the base starts with square elements that get transformed up to the round elements. For round tops, the standard grain is unidirectional. Upon request, it's possible to have the radial veneer, with additional charge. Round tables also offered in version Palermo+LS, with coplanar Lazy Susan recessed at the top level. Lazy Susan is a swivelling and removable top made of veneered or lacquered shaped panels. Upon request, Lazy Susan can be in marble or in back-painted glass.

Also available in the small table version, in round and oval shape.
